VON BERNSTORFF WANTS HUGE AMERICAN LOAN

Former Intriguing German Ambassador Here, Now Leading Democrat, Outlines German Claims at Peace Table—Aspires to Presidency—Has Not Abandoned Hope For "Place In The Sun."

(By Alfred G. Anderson.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, March 24, via London, March 25.—Germany is going to the Paris peace conference with three well defined groups of claims:

First—Restoration of the German colonies.
Second—Preservation of Germany's ethnological borders.
Third—Future nationality of disputed European territories formerly forming part of the German Empire to be considered by self determination.

Germany will enter the peace conference with a clear understanding of the obligation of paying for the damage done in the devastated regions of France and Belgium.

She probably will make a formal request for a huge American loan to enable her to discharge these obligations.

These are the outstanding features of an interview I have just had with Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States who will be an adviser to the German delegates.

To Be Peace Intermediary.

Count von Bernstorff has established what virtually amounts to a peace clearing house at 21 Behrenstrasse. He is to be the intermediary link between the German cabinet and the peace delegation at Paris. The German peace envoys will submit all reports to Bernstorff who will then sift them and transmit the different parts of them to the respective government departments directly interested in the various subjects.

Count von Bernstorff, furthermore, will directly forward all instructions to the Paris delegation. The former ambassador continues a leading democrat in Germany. He is the originator and the first president of the new German Democratic Club. His party has offered him the first candidacy on the Democratic ticket in the next elections to the national assembly, and Bernstorff has accepted.

"I will head the ticket and am sure of election," he confided to me. The count's friends say he has stepped stone to the German presidency. His success lies, of course, in the hands of the Socialists.

"The Democrats are not far separated from the government Socialists," said Bernstorff. "We differ in policy only on one of the main points, and that the question of nationalization of property. We Democrats believe in private ownership."

Such are the present political affiliations of prospects of the man who has been selected to transmit instructions to the German peace delegates.

HERBERT ON EXECUTIVE BODY

Of State Conference, of Commercial Organization—Local C. of C. Delegation Makes Report on Albany Meeting of Federated State Chambers.

President Joseph M. Herbert of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce has been elected a member of the Executive Committee of the New York State Conference of Commercial Organizations.

This committee is composed of Fred W. Kinkaid, Utica, chairman; Edwin N. Huyck, Albany, vice-chairman; E. J. Dunn, Elmira, treasurer; George E. McCoy, Peekskill; Joseph M. Herbert, Kingston; J. E. Stille, Gloversville; Lewis E. Pierson, New York; Harry Gould, Middletown; E. E. Fairchild, Rochester; and Charles L. Crouch, Buffalo.

Chas. R. O'Connor, Palmer, Candler, J. and S. M. Watts, delegates of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, to the New York State Conference of Commercial Organizations at Albany, March 21-22, reported at the regular weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Kingston Chamber on Monday.

Two hundred representatives from practically every Chamber of Commerce in the state attended the conference. It was determined to organize the state conference permanently along the lines of the United States Chamber of Commerce. George E. McCoy, president of the Hudson Valley Federated Chamber of Commerce, stated the aims of the New York state conference. Mr. McCoy said: "This first regular conference of representatives of the Chambers of Commerce of our state is a most important event in our history. Your province is the welfare of our great state."

"I am given to understand that this is not the first state conference to be permanently organized within the United States. Some of our sister states of the union have been ahead of New York in this respect. But you can help to maintain the supremacy of New York by sustaining an active, efficient and effective state organization."

No Politics in Chambers. "There can be no doubt but that through the aid of your organization the problems of state government and legislation may be made easier of solution, as have national problems been so made since the creation of the Chamber of Commerce in the United States."

"Your influence undoubtedly is very great in the localities that you represent. On every public question your decision should be cordially welcomed and its influence should be far reaching because it is stripped of political bias and comes from a representative body made up of men of all shades of political opinion."

BOLSHEVISM GAINS IN CENTRAL EUROPE

Croatia, Bosnia and Slavonia Infected From Hungary—Allyed Monitors Hasten Up Danube—Hungarians Mobilize.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 25.—The Bolshevik revolutionary movement in Hungary is spreading. According to advices from Amsterdam today it now extends into Croatia, Bosnia and Slavonia.

Clashes are now taking place between bands of armed workmen and the Serbians in southern Hungary. The Hungarian Reds are occupying banks and have taken over many newspapers.

All of the Allied subjects in Budapest are believed to be safe but Allied monitors are steaming up the Danube at top speed to protect the Entente's interests.

The Hungarian soviets have ordered general mobilization of Hungarian troops as a result of the advance of Rumanian troops into Transylvania.

The Bolshevik situation in Hungary, with its possible results in Germany, is being closely watched by the peace conference delegates in Paris. The chief fear now is that some of the smaller powers, influenced by events at Budapest, may intrigue for their own selfish interests.

Troop movements are under way in Galicia (eastern Hungary) with a view to a coalition of Hungarian and Russian Bolshevik troops.

Conflicting reports have been received as to the movement of the armies in eastern Europe. One report said that 70,000 Hungarian soldiers were on their way to invade Poland. A later report had it that Russian Bolshevik troops were on their way into Galicia to join the Hungarians.

Ralph Murphy defeated Tony Gentile in the best game of pool that has yet been played in the K. of C. tournament. Murphy is classed as one of the best men in the tournament. P. T. Murphy easily defeated Lew Netter in their game. Another good game was played between M. Brown and Ed Cashin. Both needed five balls in the last block. Cashin won out. In the last game Golden played a fast game and easily defeated Byrnes. ONLY TWO PEACE FEATURES UNSETTLED

Reparation and League Military Authority Probably Not Be Agreed Upon This Week—Bolsheviks at Thorn.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, March 25.—At no time since the peace conference opened has the menace of Bolshevism been so seriously considered as it is today.

It is pointed out that by winning over Hungary, the Bolsheviks have opened up the gateway to virtually the whole of Central Europe.

While no official statement was issued concerning the conference of President Wilson, Marshal Foch and the Allied premiers, just before the meeting of the council of ten on Monday, it is understood that the situation in Hungary is viewed as serious enough to call for active measures to check Bolshevism. What form these measures will take is known only to the heads of the governments.

Marshal Foch, for the moment, possibly will wait to see the effect of the presence of British monitors at Budapest.

If these war vessels do not quiet the Hungarians more drastic action may be taken.

Treaty Not Ready Saturday.
One element of the general Bolshevik situation which is being considered is the enormous population of Russia.

But despite Bolshevism and other obstacles that are continually cropping up to occupy the attention of the peace conference, it is understood that the delegates have made further progress in the past twenty-four hours towards final peace terms than in any other single day in a week.

Practically only two features remain to be settled, Reparation.

How far the military authority of the League of Nations will extend. The French want a permanent general staff, but it is not certain that this proposal will be approved.

Although the delegates are hurrying things as much as possible it is doubted whether the first treaty will be ready by Saturday as it had been hoped. There has been talk among some of the smaller neutrals to ask for "group voting" on the League of Nations, instead of enlarging the executive council, thus enlarging the small neutrals' scope of power.

Under this plan four or five small nations would combine and send one delegate instead of each voting individually.

Empire State Hindenburg Line Smashers Received Homage of Metropolis and Half Million Up-Staters In Demonstration Great Beyond Memory of Oldest New Yorker—Tribute To those Who Fell as Caisson With Draped Casket Rolls By.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, March 25.—Greater New York was a quiver today with mingled emotions as it paid homage to the Twenty-seventh Division (former National Guard), the fighting sons of the Empire State who smashed the Hindenburg Line.

Less than two years ago this same division marched jauntily down Fifth avenue on the first leg of its long journey to France and the great world war. Today it returned to parade the famous thoroughfare once again to receive a welcome home, the like of which New York has never witnessed.

A gun caisson, bearing a casket, draped with the colors and graced with a single wreath, paid silent tribute to the 1,972 brave boys who marched away never to return. These men were not forgotten, even in the pandemonium of joy that signaled the tribute to those who returned covered with glory.

The parade started shortly after 10 o'clock, and the great crowd, which lined Fifth avenue from Washington Square, where the parade started, to 110th street, where it ended, was estimated at nearly 2,000,000.

Giant reviewing stands extended all along the line of march. The main reviewing stand, running from 60th to 110th streets, held more than 75,000, and the first ticket holder to enter it presented his ticket at 6:30 o'clock this morning. The famous avenue was a sea of waving flags and bunting. Decorations for the occasion cost in the neighborhood of $750,000 and the oldest New Yorker admitted that he had never seen anything to compare with this celebration of victory day.

Police Couldn't Handle Crowd.
So enthusiastic was the great crowd which packed the line of march that the police were unable to cope with it at some points.

At the Victory Arch, Twenty-third street, the crowd surged into the avenue and was pressed back with the greatest difficulty. Even the mounted police were helpless for a time. One patrolman was knocked down and received a sprained ankle and painful bruises.

Intermittent demonstrations by the spectators held up the progress of the procession all along the line. Many women fainted in a crush in the vicinity of Madison Square where thousands of spectators surged and fought for a view of the troops. Children were wedged in and half crushed in the dense mass of humanity. Several show windows were broken in the crush despite protecting boards and screens that had been erected.

Rolling Barrage of Cheers.
Fully equipped with bayonets fixed and steel helmets set cockily afloat, the first of the 27,000 old heroes swung into step at Washington Square and advanced up Fifth avenue, led by their commander, Major General John F. O'Ryan and his staff, a police band and escort and the flag draped caisson.

They advanced up the avenue behind a rolling barrage of deafening cheers that drowned out the strains of martial music and echoed over and over again and each unit passed in review.

The pageant was reviewed at Eight-second street by Governor Alfred E. Smith, Mayor John F. Hylan and other state and city officials. At 110th street General O'Ryan reviewed his men.

At Madison Square the Altar of the Doughboys, while the eyes of the dead, erected in tribute to its departed members, was passed at the Public Library. The Victory Arch and the Arch of Jewels were among the beautiful decorative features of the parade.

Victims Slept in Subways.
Never in the history of New York, according to police and transportation officials, has there ever been a crowd anywhere for any national occasion as the one for the returning troops today. Hotel men estimated that nearly 50,000 visitors from upstate and abroad were here as the day was proclaimed a holiday in the greater city, traffic on all lines of transportation was jammed, almost to a standstill.

Along the route of the parade, the city was a sea of flags as the first and bravest of the boys, the heroes of the Hindenburg line, marched in review. The coming of a sunny day brought the cheering of a sunny day. Many of the visitors who could not obtain accommodations slept in subway cars and on the streets. In some of the more crowded stations, minor accidents due to the crush were reported, however.

Tonight the heroes of the Twenty-seventh will be feted and dined. Banquets will be tendered to them at the various restaurants and at 150 hotels, and every colored man and officer will participate in these banquets. Parties and celebrations at the various churches will follow the dinner.

WORKERS PLAN FOR 2,500 IN PARADE

To March Up Broadway With Uster Soldiers April 1—Women Preparing Enthusiastically.

It is estimated that thirty industries, represented by 100 per cent attendance will form a labor division for next Tuesday's parade of about 2,500 workers. This was planned last night at a meeting of the industrial workers of the city held in Meester's Hall, where over 150 delegates gathered to make arrangements for their part in the monster demonstration.

This labor division will form at Pine Grove avenue promptly at 1:30 and immediately proceed to the Rhinecliff ferry, where they will be in readiness when the parade starts to wind up Broadway at 2 o'clock. William R. Martin will act as chief marshal of the division and will be assisted by six women and six men aides.

The industrial workers will have a large band and drum corps at the head of their line and will be one of the largest bodies in the line. These musicians will be brought from out of town and Mr. Martin promises the best in march music.

The following committees were appointed to complete the plans for the workers: Music—John Mayor, John Simmons and Fred McWhitt. Publicity—William R. Martin, Patrick McDermod and E. Simmons.

The women workers are showing exceptional enthusiasm in doing their part to welcome the boys and their efforts will be revealed when they and the labor men turn out 6,000 strong for the line of march.

"GENIUS", BRITISH SAY OF O'RYAN

Red Cross Man With Twenty-Seventh Tells of Regard Men Have For Their Commander.

A man of remarkable courage, and a "veritable genius in military matters"—that is Major General John F. O'Ryan, as he is regarded by high officers of the British army, according to Captain Stephen N. Bobo, Red Cross representative with the 27th Division, who returned to New York with the famous fighting troops.

"General O'Ryan's conduct of the Hindenburg show was one of the most remarkable achievements of the war," said Captain Bobo. "In the opinion of half a dozen or more British officers of high rank, General O'Ryan was as much responsible for the success of the operations against the Hindenburg Line as any officer engaged in them. Not less than six British officers have told me that they regard General O'Ryan as one of the most brilliant military leaders in the world today."

Distinctive Discipline. The most distinctive thing about the Twenty-seventh as a whole, according to Captain Bobo, was the discipline, which was due not so much to inflexible rules as to the spirit of the division.

"Their feeling for their commander was much more than respect. It amounts to passion with them, for there is not a man in the division who either has not witnessed instances in which General O'Ryan displayed personal fearlessness, or heard of these instances from companions-in-arms."

"General O'Ryan was with the British commanders in conference when the battle plans were made, and I personally have heard British officers comment upon the thoroughness of General O'Ryan's grasp of military affairs. The Twenty-seventh's commander's headquarters were so far forward that they were in reach of machine-gun fire practically at all times. I saw General O'Ryan caring for the wounded, or moving among them at danger to his own life, sympathizing with them, and again and again facing the hazards of fire on his tours of inspection, with his aid, Captain Joseph Eddy.

"General O'Ryan got along with the British famously, and I am certain that there is not one British officer, with whom he associated, who does not entertain the most profound admiration for him both for his personal qualities and for his prowess as a divisional commander of the U. S. army."

GRANDPA BRUCK'S 80TH BIRTHDAY

NICHOLAS BRUCK, SR.

Nicholas Bruck, Sr., celebrated his 80th birthday at his home, No. 27 Smith avenue, on Friday, March 21. IT'S WEAR LIKE THIS THAT CUTS YOUR SHOE EXPENSE

Stepping on small pieces of hot metal, walking on sharp chips of steel, standing in hot sand—these, and other harsh conditions of walking surfaces, in a steel plant, have no apparent effect on Neolin Soles. So says R. J. Doty, plant superintendent of the Siver Steel Casting Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

"The best oak tanned leather soles last about three weeks under the abuse given them in the foundry, while I have been wearing a pair of Neolin Soles for more than three months. And to all appearances, they are as stout as when first put on my shoes," says Mr. Doty.

Only Neolin Soles can resist wear and abuse like this. They are created by Science to be very tough and durable—flexible and waterproof, too. To reduce your own shoe expense, and to cut the family shoe bills, buy Neolin-soled shoes. You can get them in many styles for men, women, and children.

And have your worn shoes re-bottomed with Neolin Soles. These long-wearing soles are manufactured by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outlast all other heels.

him with congratulations and presented him with a purse. An elaborate banquet was served, and there were the usual speeches, etc. The party departed at a late hour, wishing "grandpa" many more happy birthdays. Among those present Sunday was Richard Nicols of Brooklyn, whose wife was Miss Carrie Bruck, who died last September.

HURLEY.

Hurley, March 24.—As announced in our village church last Sunday, the new consistory is as follows: Elders: Messrs. Peter Elmendorf and Jacob Merritt; new members, Augustus Elmendorf in place of A. C. DeWitt, deceased, and Benjamin Elmendorf in place of M. W. Myer. Deacons, Messrs. S. F. Ten Eyck and John Woolsey; new members, John Brink in place of John Ostrander, and Frank Snyder in place of Augustus Elmendorf, who is now placed among the elders.

Miss May Sweinler is visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George I. Van Sickle.

Mr. and Mrs. Tibbals and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lockwood, all of Kingston, were visitors at the Van Sickle home on Sunday.

Ms. George R. Van Sickle has hired the north end of the Crispell house on the corner of the road to Kingston.

The Red Cross quilting bee held lately was not only a most enjoyable affair of itself with its tea and cakes, but also was such a pleasing success financially that another one is planned for the near future.

Fred Lockwood is improving under hospital care in Kingston.

The "Old Hurley Talent" finished its winter-spring circuit last Friday night after a most satisfactory season: satisfactory to the several communities in which it had the pleasure of appearing as well as satisfactory to their exchequer. This final appearance was at Ashokan and the occasion furnished a fine wind-up for the season. In the first place, the trip thither was a most pleasant one and the trip home was a most interesting and to some a novel one.

The entertainment itself was given under the auspices of the ladies of the Methodist church and they are to be most heartily congratulated for this successful endeavor in helping the Hurley folk in every way to prepare an enjoyable evening to all. The hall, well, the writer, who has gone through about every stage of entertainment work from call-boy to time manager and advance agent, has about every possible condition of only praise and admiration.

Amos mixed with a certain amount of envy of those communities where such an entertainment has been staged. The hall was filled to the doors; the large audience was most appreciative of the efforts made to entertain, please and amuse its members, which was easily reflected on the members of the troupe, who exerted themselves to do their very best. The social hour was taken advantage of and was thoroughly enjoyed by us. A nice little sum came to the treasury of the society. The "Willing Workers" of Hurley church wish herewith to thank everyone who has assisted in any way in bringing about the fine results the society has experienced. The society is especially grateful to Messrs. Hotelling and Snyder for automobile service so willingly and cordially granted on any and all occasions. The remembrance of a most happy season with "Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown" abides with us all.

"Billy" Taylor is again back on the Ostrander farm after an absence of some months.

Mrs. Samuel Ostrander is recovering from an illness under the care of Dr. Vrooman.

ARDONIA.

Ardonia, March 25.—The members of the "Mother's Club" held a meeting at the school house Friday afternoon. A very interesting subject was discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atkins are rejoicing over the arrival of a young son.

Mr. Atkins, the local wood Sawyer, expects to saw a number of wood poles this week.

Chas. Gildersleeve attended the funeral of Philip Eiling of Lloyd, Saturday.

W. E. Harcourt is supplying the fruit growers in this vicinity with fertilizer.

William Sherman has hatchlings of full-blooded Brahma chickens for sale.

Eber Palmer, Jr., is ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Taylor and family of Walden spent the week end with Mrs. Taylor's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. LaForge.

Follow Him With Songs

Still "baby boys" to hungry mother hearts are those strapping lads who fight for freedom over there. Patriotic music means much to all of us, but to mothers most of all.

Columbia Grafonolas and Records give to mothers all the songs their soldier boys are singing. With the patriotic inspiration of such music the mothers of America follow their boys with songs and speed the day of victory.

HOW RIGHT TRIUMPHS.

General O'Ryan, commander of the Twenty-seventh Division, is thus quoted: "It's all very nice to talk about the forces of right having triumphed over the forces of might when we are discussing the way in which the American armies won their battles in Flanders and Belgium, but there is this to keep in mind: The forces of right, which we were only won their ultimate victory because we were mightier in physical strength, in courage and in resources than the so-called forces of might of the German empire. We went against the best they had, the Prussian Guards, and beat them. We were the 'mightier than might' outfit."

General O'Ryan is altogether correct, although he may be slightly sarcastic at the expense of certain misinterpreted public utterances. No sane person has ever contended that right merely as an intellectual conception could overcome might in the form of guns and armies. Cromwell is reported to have said: "Trust in Providence but keep your powder dry. Providence is on the side of the strongest battalions." Undoubtedly right, if standing naked and helpless, will go down before might even in the most corrupt and hateful form. That is self-evident. But right has an inherent power which wrong lacks, no matter what the physical strength of the latter may be. For the right that stirs the hearts of men gradually wins its way until it can command even enormous physical forces superior to those of the "might" that is battling for wrong. And so right triumphs—after keeping its powder dry and marshalling the strongest battalions. It is hardly worth while to remind the intelligent that for the sake of brevity and strength of expression we clothe our thought in figures of speech that are not to be taken literally.

THE FORKED TONGUE.

The evidence against the dishonest claim that the war was forced on Germany still accumulates. The latest revelation is found in two dispatches sent from Berlin to Vienna on July 25, 1914, which have been unearthed and published. They were written by von Jagow, Foreign Secretary, and relate to the efforts of Sir Edward Grey, through the German Ambassador at London, to secure a conference between the chief governments of Europe on the quarrel between Austria and Serbia with a view to avert war.

Von Jagow passed the proposition on to Vienna, and in consequence it was claimed that Germany had done her full duty, but in one of these dispatches he said: Any adjournment of military operations would be considered here as very dangerous on account of intervention by other powers. We are convinced with the greatest insistence to pass immediately to action and thus put the world in face of an accomplished fact." In the other he said: "The German government assures me in the most convincing manner that it in no way identifies itself with these proposals; that it is absolutely against their being taken into consideration, and that it will only transmit them to give effect to the English request. Here is more damning evidence that while falsely pretending a peaceful disposition, Germany hurried the preparation of war in order to avert the possibility of intervention and thus an unprepared world with an accomplished fact." False and fork-tongued from the beginning, Germany will bear close watching ever now.

The food shipped by the Allies to Germany will have to be paid for and it seems that professional idlers will not even be permitted to buy any, judging from the letter and contents of the Berlin papers that have been edited. The Germans really expect the food as a free gift. The Socialist organ is particularly indignant at the requirement that all put idlers to work. "Take children who after punishment, are sent to the front," says the paper, "to destroy the world, the Germans seem to think that the world owes them a living."

as a store pit for green fodder and the second as vegetable produce stored in a silo. It appears that there drips from the ensilage in a silo a "milky, glycerine like substance" which, diluted to 90 or 85 degrees of proof, provides a blinder "kick" than even the most concentrated of the liquids soon to come under the law's ban. It is predicted that when this becomes generally known the long-standing difficulties of securing an adequate supply of farm labor will entirely disappear.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, March 24.—The Home Economics Community meeting will be held at Hunt Memorial Hall Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Ellenville committee is anxious that every housekeeper should attend this meeting and hear just what the association is, what it has done in other towns and what it would be glad to help the women of our community do. Community work of some sort is surely the duty of every public spirited woman.

Under the auspices of the Ellenville Woman's Club, a meeting will be held at Hunt Memorial Hall Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There will be an address by Hon. Thomas E. Benedict on the League of Nations. All members of the club and friends are invited to attend this meeting.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the high school orchestra, assisted by local talent, will give a musical at the high school auditorium. This is a worthy cause and is sure to receive liberal patronage from the village and vicinity people.

One of the most delightful social affairs that has been held in some time was the evening of pleasure held at Masonic Chapter rooms on Thursday evening, March 20. This unique affair was arranged and under the direction of two members of the O. E. S., Miss Carolyn Clark and Mrs. Fred Freer. The large room was made very attractive and inviting. There were three cozy corners so pleasantly arranged for those who preferred chatting with their work. There were tables with their work. There were tables with their work. There were tables with their work.

Mrs. Adele McDowell entertained a company of her young friends at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sue L. McDowell on North Main street, Friday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock in honor of her 11th birthday. The young folks had a very fine time with games and of course on the first day of spring which really proved to be an ideal spring day. Mrs. McDowell and daughter, Miss Jeanie McDowell, served the young folks with a splendid supper which was certainly enjoyed. A nice array of gifts were tendered their young friend in remembrance of her birthday with best wishes for many happy returns of the day, March 21st.

Mrs. C. H. Decker entertained the members of the Whist Club at the Mitchell House Saturday afternoon. Following the games very delicious refreshments were served, which were enjoyed with a pleasant social intercourse.

A telegram received from George H. Taylor Sunday morning announced his safe arrival from overseas safe and well at Camp Dix, which is gratifying news to his young wife and his mother, Mrs. C. F. Taylor.

Richard Carver, wife from overseas, and at Camp Dix, spent a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carver, on Park street. He is of the 27th Division and expects to take part in the great battle on Tuesday in New York city.

Mrs. Mary Bishop went on Thursday, March 20th, to visit her son, Edward Bishop and family at Hazleton, Pa.

Mrs. Anita Clearwater has accepted the position of stenographer in the law office of Cleon B. Murray.

Mrs. Helen Brown, who has a fine home on Grand St. Manor, is planning a vacation with her mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown on a trip to the Adirondacks.

Richard A. Marshall, wife and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Marshall of Kingston, and Harry Brown of Washington, spent Sunday with the family.

Those who have been admiring the new state glass windows in the new store in Keel street, are now admiring much more than the glass, the new dress, in honor of the opening of Easter time. The other window is also very attractive in its decorations of books, flowers, etc. Mr. Clark is not only a clever hand at window dressing, which is well deserving of complimentary praise.

The interior of the local post office is becoming extremely attractive, the new and old windows under the direction of Mr. Clark, which is well deserving of complimentary praise.

NO CHANCE FOR LOWER OIL PRICES

Say Representatives of 500 Oil Companies at Chicago Conference—War and Decreased European Production Factors.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Chicago, March 25.—Because consumption of oil in the last dozen years has increased far more rapidly than has oil production there is not a chance for the price of oil to go lower at the present time.

This was the consensus of opinion of 500 representatives of oil companies of the Central and Western states who are meeting in conference here today.

"A small automobile today uses more oil than the biggest farm-dressing outfit of ten years ago," said Walter Keenan, of Cincinnati. "The war caused a great increase in oil consumption and shut off production in European fields. These factors make it impossible for prices of oil to be lowered now."

The conference here is expected to develop a union of eastern and western independent oil concerns for protecting the industry against too much regulation by the federal government.

Phillips and two daughters Elsie and Marion; Mrs. Daisy Dingman, Miss Ruth, Ralph and Cyrus of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Jency S. Cudney and baby, Lorraine, of New York city; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCann and daughter, Grace; Miss Millaville Cudney of Selma, California; Miss Ada and Ray Cudney of Ashokan. At the appointed hour a bountiful dinner was served. Soikaniashade Club.

The Soikaniashade Club met with Mrs. Vernon Hull at her home on Liberty street on Monday afternoon. During the short business session, the club members voted an expression of thanks and appreciation to George B. Styles, Jr., for engraving the flag holder recently given the club. Mrs. Sidney Hines had the paper for the day, her topic being, "Othello." It was one of the finest papers of the year, and included the following admirable summing up of this great Shakespearean tragedy: "The play stands in the same rank with Shakespeare's three other great tragedies, Macbeth, King Lear and Hamlet. But it holds one advantage over all the others. In that the action and interest all lie strictly within the sphere of domestic life, for which cause the play has the more intense hold upon the common sympathies of mankind. Othello's character was open, generous to a fault, of high principle and earnest feeling. A good man himself, he believed in the goodness of others." Next week the club will meet with Mrs. Rice at her home on Downs street.

BAPTIST DRIVE FOR $6,000,000

Will Include One Million Dollars For Support of Ministers—Average Salary Is Less Than $800 and Totally Inadequate.

"It is a deplorable reflection upon the Protestants of this country when a minister, aged, penniless, homeless, has to offer to sell his body to a medical college for dissecting purposes after his death to receive immediate financial assistance," declared the Rev. Charles A. McAlpine, publicity secretary, National Committee of Northern Baptist Laymen, in a statement issued in New York Sunday. "And, that is what actually happened. While I do not know that this retired pastor is a Baptist, I can recall cases within our denomination equally as lamentable.

"The Victory Campaign for $6,000,000 which we are conducting is to insure spiritual democracy at home and reconstruction work abroad. We aim to make it possible that our pastors will not have to sell their bodies after having given their lives to the church. That is why almost $1,000,000 is included in the budget for the ministers and missionaries benefit board.

Clergy Shortage Threatened. "F. W. Ayer, president of the Northern Baptist Convention, made a place in his home for an old Baptist clergyman. That minister went to Mr. Ayer and asked him to keep the savings of a life time spent in the ministry. The sum he placed with Ayer was $500. Think of it! Imagine a man being so poorly paid that he could only save that amount during fifty years of service. Well, Mr. Ayer kept the money for the old gentleman and he latter drew on it for the rest of his life. He never knew how much Mr. Ayer added to the fund.

"Unless our ministers have sufficient means on which to live properly there will soon be a shortage of clergymen in America. Hundreds of clergymen have been forced into other fields because their congregations did not furnish sufficient means for their living expenses. Of course, it was not advertised that they were resigning because of miserably low salaries paid. But that is the truth. And, I believe in the truth and in publicity.

"The Northern Baptist Laymen who are conducting this Victory Campaign will never be content until every Baptist pastor is receiving a salary that is generous as well as just, in view of the circumstances that surround the man and his church. The Protestants of the United States are not poverty stricken. They can afford to pay better salaries than their pastors are now receiving.

Pastor Allowed to Pay. "Today the average salary of a Baptist pastor is still less than $800 a year. Think of it! Eight hundred dollars a year for an educated man, a man who is responsible for the moral education, the spiritual welfare of men, women and children. Why, the diabolical gets more. "A pastor, by reason of his calling, has peculiar needs that involve expenses not ordinarily incurred by the

The Stroller Hears That Building Operations Will Probably Be Light in Kingston This Summer—Costs More to Build.

"What are you studying now?" queried the busy barber, and he glanced at the customer, who was looking over a booklet.

"I am thinking of building a house this summer," responded the customer, "but have not decided just what material I will have it built of."

"As far as price is concerned," said the barber, "I don't believe it will make any difference."

"How is that?" asked the customer.

"They tell me that all kinds of building material are high," explained the barber, "and from what I can gather I doubt very much if you see much activity in the building line this year."

"I was talking with a man the other day," continued the barber, "and he said that it would cost over 50 per cent more than it would a few years ago to erect a frame house. Not only is lumber high, but wages have increased also.

"No one ought to begrudge a man a raise in pay," interrupted the customer.

"It was not commenting on that question at all," retorted the barber, "but with both material and labor high it is bound to cost more to build."

"What is a man going to do then?" queried the customer.

"Wait until there is a drop in the price of material," replied the barber, "and look around for a house to rent."

"Even then you would have a job," said the customer, "for I know a man, who has been looking for a house to rent for some time, and as yet he has not found any to suit him."

"Then he will have to buy a house," said the barber, "and I think he would find it cheaper in the end than building a new house."

Goethe Memorial at Welmar. The genius of Goethe and Schiller characterize Welmar in many forms of civic beauty. Goethe, some years before his death, laid out a large public park in the form of a garden and without an enclosure of any kind. There a quaint relic of its originator remains in the stone altar round which a serpent climbs to eat the votive bread. Upon the altar is an inscription to the "genius hujus loci."

average member of his congregation. The majority of churches let their pastors pay their own telephone, stationery, postage and other bills that are due to church work and if a pastor is lucky enough to own a Ford or an automobile, which he uses in his work, the church calmly allows him to buy his own gas. Yesterday a good Maxwell —Today a Better One

THAT is the policy of the Maxwell Motor Company. It began five years ago on a single chassis plan and today 300,000 Maxwells have been built on this program.

Not 300,000 Maxwells identically alike—for that would be admitting that the car has never improved in five years' time.

More than 1000 refinements have been made in the Maxwell.

But the original chassis plan was not changed. It has simply grown better as the days went by.

The logic of building one thing and thus building it well is too clear, too sound, too emphatic in results to argue against.

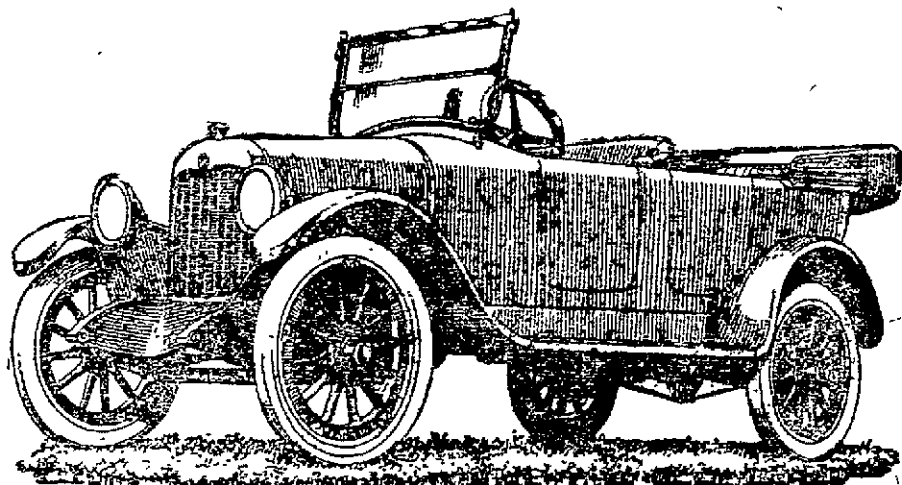

Like any fine piece of machinery the Maxwell seems to improve with age.

It runs on and on without end. We have never heard of a Maxwell salvaged.

There is no car with a better road ability record. And it saves many a thrifty dollar by shying at the repair shop.

This Maxwell you see today is not a new Maxwell; though many persons have thought so. It has been so much improved in appearance that our contemporaries in the trade repeatedly refer to it as the new Maxwell.

However, good looks have not in any way handicapped its running. And the latter is the main thing, after all, in a motor car.

Referee, Dillingham. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Scorer, A. W. Bulley. During the evening a very generous contribution of five dollars was received by the treasurer of the Memorial Tablet Fund. This was given by Martin Joyce, father of John John Joyce, who died in the service of his country and now is sleeping peacefully "somewhere in France." This contribution will be used in the purchase of a memorial Tablet.

In the preliminary contests for prize speakers which were held last Wednesday and Thursday ten people were chosen as representatives in the final contest to be held some time this month. All the selections were very entertaining, but the speakers will use other selections for the final trial. By Judge Clearwater's and Dr. O'Meara's generosity, we had quite a treat when the speeches were given and we certainly enjoyed them.

The girls chosen, ranging in alphabetical order and not high standing are: Dorothy Brown, Frances Harder, Nancy Judkins, Eleanor Kerr and Elsa Stearn.

The boys chosen, ranging in same order are: Virgil DeWitt, Ralph Hillier, Joseph McDermott, Harry Madden and Fred Merritt.

The final contest will be much more interesting than the preliminaries. Every one is invited to come. The exact time and date will be announced later.

Friday afternoon in the gymnasium the Juniors met defeat for the first time this year and at the hands of the Sophomores—with a score of 19-9. The Juniors were all out of trim, but fought hard. There didn't seem to be gravity enough to pull the ball through the Junior basket. The Junior guards did not play close to their men as they should have done. Winters and McAndrew did the scoring for the Juniors. The Juniors are still the champions of the inter-class league. They can never be brought down either.

The other big feature which accompanied Friday night's game was the tug-of-war between the Freshmen vs. Sophomores and Juniors vs. Seniors.

The Freshmen just nicely pulled the Sophs off his floor. They certainly were strong.

The Juniors ran off the floor with the Seniors. It could hardly be called a tug-of-war because the Seniors were so weak. Again it was the Seniors who challenged the Juniors. Of course their challenge was gladly accepted. When the time for the tug-came, the Seniors wanted to forfeit to the Juniors on a plea of not having enough men. However when the Juniors would accept no such a thing they obtained the necessary men. They did the same thing when the time came for the first basket ball game that they had challenged the Juniors to play. It must be awfully hard for them to take defeat after such trials.

SELECTIVE SERVICE.

Machinery Cost in This State—Boards Close March 31.

When the draft boards close down in New York state the last day of this month, the total cost will run beyond $2,500,000, Major Franklin S. Hutchinson, who is in charge of the state selective service headquarters at Albany for the U. S. government says. He has compiled figures up to February 17, showing the known cost of the draft in the state at that time was $2,421,947.10. Although board members will cease to have any functions after March 31, none will be discharged on that date and all will be subject to call by the government. Local boards are permitted to take no action after March 31 and all matters and correspondence will be referred to headquarters. There are three boards in Ulster county, two with headquarters in this city and one at Napanoch.

MORGAN HILL.

Morgan Hill, March 25.—Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer, who for some years past have been summer residents here, have now settled among us permanently. In response to an invitation from Mrs. Meyer some of the ladies of Morgan Hill spent a very enjoyable afternoon at her home a few days ago. Coffee and cake were served and the table was tastefully decorated with ferns running the full length of the table, while in the center was a large vase holding pussy willows and pine, and at each place lay a tiny silk American flag. Those present were: Mrs. Helen Conroy, the Misses Foster, Mrs. Barthel, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Wieland, Sr., Mrs. Wieland, Jr., Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Ferro. Mrs. Wieland, Jr., proposed that a meeting be held once a month at the various homes and as we all have realized for some time that we only need a little more fun and social intercourse to make Morgan Hill an ideal place to live in, Mrs. Wieland's proposition was welcomed and agreed to. Miss Foster proposed that a name be selected for the budding organization, so after some discussion "The Morgan Hill Circle" was agreed upon. Now we must make it flourish.

FOREST FIRE

Threatening Serious Damage Extinguished By Two Volunteers.

A fire broke out last Sunday about noon in the woods between Glenelg and Schoontag's hotel, the property belonging to William Ten Broeck of Glasco. E. E. Dill knowing that the strong north wind would send the danger to his own property, burnt a fire guard to prevent the fire reaching his own home which joins Mr. Ten Broeck's on the south. Meanwhile the fire was rapidly climbing the hill and would have done great damage to property owned by J. Jenkins of Brooklyn also that of Dawes Brink of Kingston had not Mr. Dill been thoughtful enough to save it as both would probably have lost their houses and barns. Both of these places are vacant. It took courage and lots of hard work to fight such a fire alone as it was not until late in the evening, and after Mr. Dill had the fire under control that help reached him, being a man sent by Mr. Schoontag, he not knowing Mr. Dill was already there. The two men finally got the fire out and went home exhausted but happy to think they saved so much property even if Dill did lose his eye brows and a good share of his hair. The cause of the fire is unknown.

W. C. T. U. JUBILEE CAMPAIGN PROGRESS

Mrs. Livingston, With Reputation As An Orator, To Open Drive Here On March 31.

(Contributed.)

Mrs. Deborah Knox Livingston, Field Representative of the National W. C. T. U., will be in Kingston, March 31, for the purpose of starting the Uster County Jubilee Fund. A jubilee meeting will be held at St. James's Church at 2 p. m., at which Mrs. Livingston will make an address and outline the plans and purpose of the jubilee campaign. Those who are curious to know what the women will do next ought to attend the meeting, as well as those who are interested in moral uplift, the protection of the home and its interests and persons interested in getting the facts that caused National Prohibition to be written into the constitution.

Deborah Knox Livingston is one of the few women in America worthy to be called an orator. Testimony to this can be given by many audiences. She is distinguished for open-mindedness and intellectual honesty. She has the ability to present her thought in a clear and logical form, in a voice pleasing in its quality and strong enough to be heard without effort in the largest hall. It is an intellectual treat to listen to her. Her personality is charming; her logic convincing; her eloquence inspiring.

The Philadelphia Ledger—"Mrs. Livingston is one of the foremost women orators in the country."

The Quebec Chronicle—"Mrs. Livingston has won all hearts by her charming personality as well as her intense earnestness and enthusiasm. Her audience listened to her words with breathless interest."

At this meeting the Hon. Joseph M. Fowler will also make a short address. Women from all over the county, who are interested in the jubilee campaign will be present. The following women have been appointed to take charge of the jubilee campaign in their locality: Mrs. Winfield Jenkins, Clintonville; Mrs. Jacob Bailey, Coitville; Mrs. Howard Todd, Arkville; Mrs. Mahlon Smith, Ellenville; Mrs. Sarah Pratt, Tichenland; Mrs. William P. McConnell, Marlborough; Mrs. William H. Levens, Milton; Mrs. Frank Schoonmaker, Walkill; R. D. Mr. Helen A. Palmer, Platteville; Mrs. Kate Snyder, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Albert J. Pafen, Walkill.

On Sunday evening, March 20, Mrs. Ella A. Boole, State President of the W. C. T. U., and vice-President of the National W. C. T. U., will speak in the Reformed Church, Walkill, of which the Rev. George de Mott is pastor. This will be a victory meeting, and will be a great help to the Walkill white-ribboners in their jubilee campaign.

All contributions to the fund should be sent to the Uster County W. C. T. U. treasurer, Mrs. D. R. Hendricks, 149 Elmendorf street, Kingston, N. Y.

W. S. S. AND N. Y. C. EMPLOYEES

Campaign Manager on Lines East of Buffalo Aims at Promotion of Thrift to Extent of $600,000.

With the object of encouraging thrift and patriotism among the 70,000 employees of the New York Central Railroad on lines east of Buffalo, L. F. Vosburgh, general passenger agent, has issued an appeal for them to unite in a campaign to buy $600,000 worth of War Savings Stamps during 1919.

Mr. Vosburgh is campaign manager of the New York Central Railroad War Savings Organization (lines east of Buffalo) and has worked long hours, after arduous duties, as an executive of the vast railroad system, to see that every employee is given an opportunity to join a War Savings unit of the parent body. Reports forwarded to him recently from offices and shops, roundhouses and yardmasters' desks show, it was said yesterday at his office, that there has been 100% response to the government's request for all to join in the thrift campaign.

The simplicity of Mr. Vosburgh's plan for saving, its lack of red-tape and unnecessary work, together with results which show that every employee is a regularly enrolled saver, have made such an impression on officials of the War Savings committee for the Second Federal Reserve District that a special pamphlet has been issued describing it, as a model of War Savings Society, designed to help other concerns form their War Savings Societies.

S. Lavine has gone to the city.

One of the most enjoyable social affairs of the season was the party given in honor of the birthday of Miss Selma Hartelius on Monday evening, March 17th, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hartelius, of this place.

Of course, good old St. Patrick was not forgotten and his memory kept green, especially in the color scheme. Musical selections on the piano, singing, dancing and games were enjoyed, and a most bountiful supper served, and if ever a table had reason to groan under its load of good things it was right there. A beautiful birthday cake, decorated with green candles, and several other cakes, more or less elaborately decorated, were greatly admired and sampled by all the nineteen guests, who were present, besides the four members of the family. Everybody had a delightful time till the early morning hours compelled the guests to take a reluctant leave. Miss Selma received a large and fine assortment of birthday presents and St. Patrick souvenirs.

Abram Smith did some concrete work for the Rev. A. Quick the past week.

The ADVERTISEMENTS Have Something to Say to You

If a merchant or manufacturer could gather 5000 or 10,000 or 100,000 prospective buyers into a large auditorium and talk to them daily--by word of mouth--he would have no need of advertisements. But he cannot.

So he puts his words in type and talks to these same prospective buyers each day in the printed messages that you know as advertisements.

In this newspaper today you will find many such personal messages from merchants and manufacturers.

Some are large and some are small. They cover a wide range of subjects. They are worthy of your careful reading.

No merchant or manufacturer would spend his good money advertising if his merchandise were not of good quality and fairly priced. It wouldn't pay!

Don't miss the advertisements. They will save you money.
